

A MESSAGE FROM THE ECHC CEO

Thank you for your interest in working for Edinburgh Children's Hospital Charity. We are pleased to have this opportunity to expand our team and hope that you will consider applying to join us at this exciting time.

We believe that nothing should get in the way of being a child. We exist to transform the experiences of babies, children and young people in hospital so they can be a child first and a patient second. If you share that belief, we'd love to hear from you.

The next few years will see us increase the contribution which we make to children's wellbeing in hospital and in the community; as well as increasing our support to children and young people facing mental health challenges. We are very privileged to meet inspiring people every day – children, families, NHS staff and supporters to name a few. Relationships are at the heart of everything we do.

All of the team here at ECHC share the same purpose and values. We work hard to make positive change for children and young people at some of the hardest times. It takes a special mix of commitment, enthusiasm and expertise to make this difference. All members of our team, wherever they work in the charity, play a vital role in achieving this success.

If you think you have something to add to our team, and this sounds like the sort of place you'd like to work, then we'd love to hear from you.

I wish you luck with your application.

Best wishes

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Roslyn Neely". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a large, sweeping flourish at the end.

Roslyn Neely
Chief Executive